Response to Arguments

1. In view of the arguments filed on December 7, 2001, the prior rejection of claims under 35 USC 251 on the ground of Examiner's Reasons for Allowance is hereby withdrawn.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim 7 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by O'Brien '070.

O'Brien discloses a circulating and pressure equalizing sub which comprises all of the claimed structure shown in Figs. 2 and 3. More specifically, the "seat" is met by the ball seat 60 which is supported by a movable body 32. The seat is adapted to receive a member or ball 80 thereon to obstruct the tubular for pressure build-up. The claimed first position is met by Fig. 2, and the second position is met by Fig. 3. The movement-regulation device is anticipated by the shear pin 56 which yields until a predetermined fluid pressure is applied. The housing and the chamber fail to structurally distinguish from tubular structure 10 and the internal space located near the seat assembly shown in the respective drawings.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 251

3. Claims 21-36 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 251 as being an improper recapture of broadened claimed subject matter surrendered in the application for the patent upon which the present reissue is based. See Hester Industries, Inc. v. Stein, Inc., 142 F.3d 1472, 46 USPQ2d

Art Unit: 3672

1641 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Clement, 131 F.3d 1464, 45 USPQ2d 1161 (Fed. Cir. 1997); Ball Corp. v. United States, 729 F.2d 1429, 1436, 221 USPQ 289, 295 (Fed. Cir. 1984). A broadening aspect is present in the reissue which was not present in the application for patent. The record of the application for the patent shows that the broadening aspect (in the reissue) relates to subject matter that applicant previously surrendered during the prosecution of the application. Accordingly, the narrow scope of the claims in the patent was not an error within the meaning of 35 U.S.C. 251, and the broader scope surrendered in the application for the patent cannot be recaptured by the filing of the present reissue application.

In view of the applicant's original prosecution, Claims 1 and 13 (15 in Patent) had a limitation added, Claims 3 (6 in Patent), 5 (7 in Patent), 14 (17 in Patent), 16 (18 in Patent), 17 (19 in Patent) and 20 were rewritten in independent forms, and thus the limitations those dependent claims had, made the resulting independent claims patentable. Therefore any claim in the reissue application that fails to have at least one of these limitations is considered recaptured of surrendered subject matter under 35 USC § 251.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 1-6, and 15-20 are allowed.

5. Claims 8-14 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
